DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER—1892.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, MARCH 21, 1907

ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

REMEMBER.
Thank the Lord
If today hath sorrow
We can live in hope
Of a bright tomorrow!
And still find peace
When the storm is humming.
An' sweet release
In the good time comin'!

Horse thieves are busy in this vicinity and it behooves farmers to keep an eye on their equines. Last night Louis Smoot, residing about five miles from town, lost one of his best horses and was in the city this morning on the hunt of the raiders. Sidney G. Clay and W. A. Bacon of Paris are in the city in quest of a thief who visited Mr. Clay's stable last Thursday night and stole a valuable carriage horse.

EASTER MILLINERY DISPLAY.

Wednesday and Thursday, March 27th and 28th, Mrs. W. H. Harrison will have a showing of beautiful Spring and Summer Millinery. You are invited. No cards.

New School Building!

Owing to the fact of the School Board's having bought the old Perkhous (our warehouse) for the site for the new High School Building, we are obliged to move all our vehicles within the next 60 days; and we have figured that it would be better to sell them than to move, a storeroom in Maysville is pretty scarce just now, and besides it is very expensive to move four or five carloads of crated vehicles.

Therefore!

We are beginning today the most phenomenal sale of vehicles ever held in Maysville, and a word to the wise should be sufficient. "If you are contemplating the purchase of a rig of any kind, now is your opportunity."

THE "SQUARE DEAL" MAN.

Wednesday, May 1st, has been designated as special registration day for those who want to take part in the local option election to be held in this city Tuesday, May 7th.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Maysville and Lexington Railroad was held in Covington Tuesday. The road has $1,100,000 stock outstanding, practically all of which is owned by the L. and N. There are a few scattering shares, however, that the L. and N. has never been able to buy, and for this reason has been unable to liquidate the company.

DISTRESSING MISTAKE

May Result in Miss Alene Ryder Losing the Sight of An Eye

Miss Alene Ryder met with an accident yesterday morning that may in all probability cause her the loss of the sight of one of her eyes.

She has been using a solution for strengthening the optic nerve, and it has been her custom before leaving home for work down town to bathe the eye with the liquid. Like many another, she picked up a bottle without looking at the label, supposing it of course to be the proper one, but unfortunately proving to be carbolic acid instead, and before discovering her mistake had applied a drop to the eye.

The instant pain caused her to realize what she had done. Dr. Taubee was hastily summoned and soothing lotions were applied. It will require some little time to determine the extent of the injury.

Miss Ryder is a daughter of W. H. Ryder, and the official stenographer in the office of Judge C. D. Newell. She has the sympathy of the community, and the hope and wish is general that she may retain the sight of the injured eye.

ANOTHER RISE

But the Water Will Not Reach the Danger Line Here

There was a fluttering of the heart with those who reside in the flood district yesterday afternoon when it became generally known that another 25-foot flood had again visited Pittsburgh and was on its way down toward Maysville.

As the water will not reach here before Friday afternoon, and in the meantime spent its greater force, and the fact that the river is receding at this point at a fairly rapid gait, there is no reason for ringing the alarm bell.

Forecaster Bassler says that the new rise at Pittsburgh under present conditions is not expected to have any material effect on the river in the Cincinnati district, except probably retarding its decline. While headwaters are again rising, the river from Parkersburg down is falling, though still slowly. In the Cincinnati district it will be falling Wednesday and Thursday.

Si Plunkard, with J. C. Lewis as Si, gave one of the best of the "Way Down East" type of melodramas seen here in a long while, at the Capital Theater last night.

In addition to the acting of the various members of the troupe, which was above the usual order of such plays, several high class song specialties were given, all of the company having good voices. The work of Charles Hornstein being especially to be commended, he receiving several hearty encores from an appreciative audience.
